BAY ST. LOUIS GETS BIG A. A. U. MEET END OF PRESENT MONTH.

Six months ago when some of the leading citizens of the Bay got together and proposed to build a modern base-ball diamond and have the Atlanta Southern League Team do its training here it was considered a beautiful vision that would only be realized in the real imagination. The dream became a reality in the aid of the ever public spirited citizenry of the Bay. The first diamond in the South was constructed. The Atlanta Team trained here and its members are still talking of the wonderful advantages Bay St. Louis offers for the conditioning of Athletes and the magnificent hospitality displayed by all here. But this was only the beginning of a series of events which will make Bay St. Louis the most talked of little city in the Country. And every citizen of the Bay is entitled to his full share of the civic pride as there are not many big cities and practically no little ones that can boast of athletic affairs to compare with those handled here. The next big award is the Southern Amateur Athletic Junior and Senior Championships to be held here Friday and Saturday May 28th and 29th. At the annual meeting of the Southern Division of the Amateur Athletic Union held in New Orleans during the latter part of September 1919, Atlanta, Dallas, Birmingham, Baton Rouge, Bogalusa, Lafayette and Bay Saint Louis endeavored to secure the Championships. After a hard fight to the gates of the championship of the Amateur Athletic Union in the South Bay St. Louis was chosen.

For those who do not appreciate the full honor done this town, it is well to explain just how big and important the Amateur Athletic Union is. The Amateur Athletic Union of America, central and governs every athlete and all branches of Amateur athletics in the United States. The National body is divided into eight branches as follows: Metropolitan, New England, Canadian, Central, Western, Rocky Mountain, Pacific and Southern. The Hawaiian Athletic Association, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Florida and Georgia.

Once a year each division is compelled to hold a championship in all branches of athletics, the most important of which are the Junior and Senior Track and Field. The result of every divisional championship is watched carefully all over the United States. After each division has held its championships there is a National Meet held usually in some large city of the North, East or West in which all best athletes from every division are brought together to compete for the championship of the United States. This year's Southern Meet will be still further reaching inasmuch as the National Committee is now busy watching the athletes throughout the country for the purpose of picking a team to represent the United States in the Olympic games to be held at Antwerp, Belgium.

From the foregoing it will be easily seen that not only has Bay St. Louis been fortunate in securing the Southern Championships for 1920 but incidentally these games will create a general interest throughout the country that will be a great asset in the history of the Southern Athletics. It is a certainty that every institution in the South which can boast of a good athlete will enter him with hopes of having a National and Olympic Candidate. The Associated Press will carry the result of these meets not only all over the country, but also to Europe for the benefit of our soldiers there, also for the European Countries that want to know the brand of competition they will have to encounter with the United States teams in the Olympic games.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR ATHLETES
It is the prevalent opinion of good many who are familiar with athletic rulings that a junior is one who has not attained a certain age. Such is not the case. A junior athlete is one who may be of any age, but who has never won first place in any divisional championship. The athlete may have won any number of events in other meets, but he is still a junior until he has won a junior or senior championship. The moment he wins a first place junior he can no longer compete in that class. For instance, supposing an athlete is placed in the five or more events Junior Day. If he should win the first event he cannot compete in the other four as by virtue of his win he has made himself a senior. In the Senior Championship a man may enter and compete in as many events as he pleases irrespective of whether he wins them all or none.

FOUND HIS OCCUPATION GONE
Wesley Wanderer, Another Victim of the Horrors of War, as He Explained to Housewife.

Women don't feed tramps readily nowadays, with work so plentiful and men—so badly needed in almost all occupations, and a tramp has to be a bit brighter than formerly with his excuses if he "zeits by" the average housewife with a hard-look tale. One that came to the back door of a Minnesota residence the other day will not fail to make good in his particular "profession" anywhere.

"I'm out of work," he explained to Mrs. Housewife, as she stood frozen down on him, "because the war destroyed the only occupation I ever had been taught—war occupation."

My father taught me and that I always had followed until this terrible war came on.

"What was your job the war ended?" asked Mrs. Housewife, a shade of interest and even of commiseration entering her voice as she spoke. "Tramping, ma'am," was the almost tearful reply—Indianapolis News.

Her Meaning.

Where?

Less than an hour from New York there is a little New Jersey town where a church congregation has plunged very deeply into modern religious thought and tendencies. Just how deeply anyone driving by their little white wooden building can tell from the sign hanging by its door.

"Where do you spend Sunday? Around the fire?" "Where will you spend eternity? Surrounded by fire."

Nerves All Unstrung

"But Dean's Made Life Again Worth Living," Says Mrs. Harris.

"I was in excellent health until my kidneys weakened," says Mrs. N. A. Harris, 1029 Indiana St., Neodesha, Kansas. "The kidney secretion burned like fire and passed so often I couldn't get a moment's rest. My back ached and for weeks I was confined to bed. I was so tortured with the pains, I couldn't sleep without fairly screaming with misery."

I lost strength and weight and was so weak because of a nervous wreck. Headaches and dizziness added to my distress. My sight blurred, limbs, hands and face were swollen and puffy and came under my eyes. I lost hope of being well again."

Finally a neighbor brought her bottle of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I got several boxes. My trouble began to lessen and soon I could sleep at night and work in the day. I am now as well as ever. I can't say enough for Doan's Kidney Pills. I have been a sufferer from kidney trouble for years and have tried every remedy known to me, but Doan's Kidney Pills have cured me."

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

TRUCKS AIDING ROAD PLANS

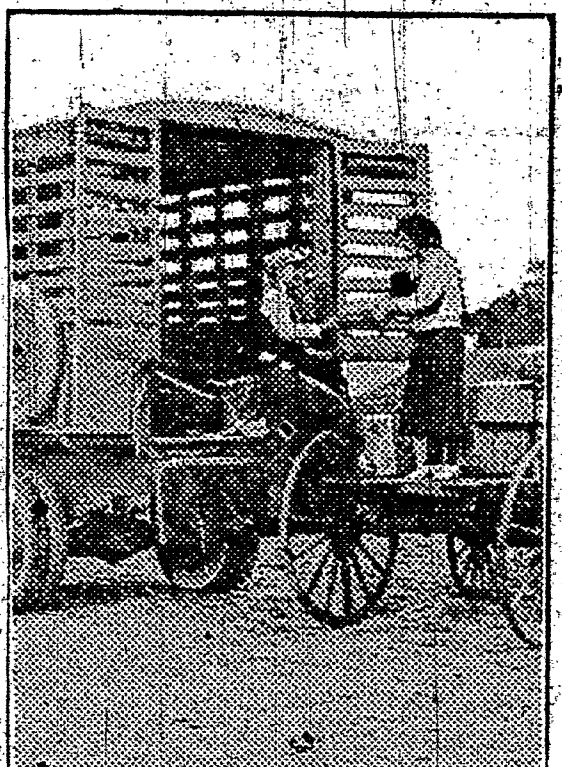

Long Island Cited as Example of Prosperity Maintained by Efficient Highway System.

(By WINDSOR T. WHITE, Chairman Motor Truck Committee, National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.) Motor highway transportation has grown to such vast importance in the past few years and has so well demonstrated its value and efficiency that it has won official public recognition in many of our states. But this activity can develop in a sound economic way only as good roads programs are developed. "While there are examples where motor transportation has succeeded when run in territories that have undeveloped roads, they, in comparison with the thousands of motor truck routes, are practically negligible."

One of our greatest wastes in the handling of the prime necessity, food, occurs in our present transportation methods. Hundreds of millions of dollars are annually wasted because the present method of transportation adapted to our present road system, is so costly that it does not pay to move this food from the farm to an area of consumption.

It is said that New York state has 18,400 miles of surface highways and 78,308 miles of unimproved rural roads. While the state has a much higher percentage of improved roads than is common for the United States, they do not benefit the farmer as much as could be desired.

Long Island is one of the most prosperous agricultural areas in New York state. It is not exceptionally fertile; in fact, it may be said that it is fertile because man has made it so. There are many areas in the state that are naturally more productive than Long Island, but which are far less prosperous. If you could take a trip over the island you would know the reason why the island farmers are famous for their product and financial independence. A well-planned, well-constructed, and finely maintained system of roads is the greatest asset the island has. Every evening one can see hundreds of motor trucks, from two to five ton capacity, rolling over these roads, bound for the New York market. Here is no 50 nor 40, nor even 10 per cent waste. While in other ral districts the farmer drives a boy-leading team through a sea of mud or well-nigh impassable snowdrifts or chokes with the dust raised by his team if the road is dry. The Long Island farmer carries a greater load, makes about four times the speed, and is more comfortable in driving his motortruck over the good highways.

SAMPLES OF ROAD MATERIAL

Tests Made by Laboratory of Bureau of Public Roads Show Increase Over Preceding Year.

A special laboratory devoted to the microscopic examination and classification of road-building rocks, maintained by the bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture, has examined 686 samples of material during the past year, according to the chief of the bureau. This represents a considerable increase over the preceding year and shows the pronounced interest in matters relating to highway construction. Of the samples examined, 240 were rock, 41 slag, 151 gravel, 189 sand, 45 clay, and 11 miscellaneous.

BENEFITS OF HIGHEST VALUE

Following in Wake of Improved Roads Are Better Buildings and Greater Civic Interest.

The benefits that follow in the wake of good roads by improved farm lands and buildings, from shiftlessness to progressive activity, better schools and churches, more intimate social intercourse, greater civic interest and better living conditions are of incalculable value.

Market Prices Vary. It is a well-known fact that market prices for building materials vary considerably from season to season. When the market is high, it is better to buy in advance. When the market is low, it is better to wait. This is a general rule that applies to all building materials.

Important to all Women. Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any work a task.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.
